

Job Description: Gameplay Programmer

Endless is an interactive storytelling company. Our mission is the never-ending pursuit of the most innovative and engaging ways to tell great stories.

We are seeking a Gameplay Programmer with a passion for shipping high-quality mobile experiences. You will be using Unity 3D and our custom storytelling tools to help develop a licensed mobile storytelling application. This position requires a well-organized, team-oriented individual with a basic understanding of Unity 3D and scripting languages. Working with our team through the full development cycle, applicants should be eager to learn and apply new skills in a fast-paced, dynamic environment.

This position is for on-site at our San Francisco or Los Angeles office.

Primary Responsibilities

- Help to assemble high-quality interactive episodic products using our Unity 3D engine and web/mobile platform
- Work closely with design and writing to rapidly bring narrative content up using `c#` and custom visual programming systems
- Work closely with art and cinematic leadership on initial art visualization and audio implementation
- Work with QA and developers to ensure maximum stability, performance, and quality through the entire project life cycle
- Help identify bottlenecks in the development process, suggesting and contributing to tools to speed workflow

Requirements

- Bachelor's degree in Computer Science, Game Design or equivalent experience
- 1+ years of experience with Unity
- Programming experience with a high-level programming language
- Experience working closely with design and art teams
- Experience in debugging and diagnostics

Pluses, But Not Required

- Experience in C#
- Experience in technical design
- Experience using Agile development with SCRUM.
- Experience/Interest in mobile F2P games.
- Experience/Interest in interactive stories.
